

Minimum Compensation for 2020

Presbytery's policy requires COM to recommend minimum compensation at 80% of the Median Effective Salary established by the Board of Pensions for the previous year. In 2020, the MES is $60,800 which reflects a 2.9% increase from 2019.

The following recommended figures are based on that figure.

For ministers in pastoral positions:

Minimum Effective Salary (includes the items below) $ 48,640

Cash Salary

Manse Value (if provided, which must be at least 30% of cash salary), and/or

Housing and/or utility allowance

(NOTE: If Social Security offset – SECA allowance – is more than an employee's share, or other benefits such as a 403b or a section 125 plan are provided, those are included in the Effective Salary. Social Security [Self-employment tax] offset that is not more than an employee's share is not included in the effective salary.)

Also required: Medical, pension, disability, and death benefit coverage through the Board of Pensions or similar plan if the minister is a member of another denomination. Dues for those working full-time are 37% of effective compensation (pension 11%, death & disability 1%, medical 25%). For those working at least 20 hours a week but less than full-time, the Board calculates medical dues based on the churchwide median. This Presbytery requires that employing congregations pay total dues equal to at least 37% of the minister's effective compensation. This requirement does not apply to those ministers who are honorably retired.

Professional reimbursable expenses:

Note: Presbytery policy sets these figures at an established percentage of Minimum Effective Salary. Those percentages are given in parentheses.

Presbytery policy sets this at 80% of the minimum effective salary of pastors.
