YEAR IN REVIEW

Health and Safety are an important part of the equation at Calvin Crest, but those two items kept emerging in every single decision that was made in 2021. And with that, summer camp happened, groups held retreats, families gathered and outdoor events occurred, including Calvin Crest's annual Family Fun Day.

Summer Camp was a wonderful time for kids that had been sequestered for so long to gather, engage with each other and build friendships while learning and growing in their faith. One of the joys of the summer was eating every meal outdoors on the deck in the cool shade of the trees.

Spending time with a small group of campers helped to build strong friendships and developed deeper connections with each other and with God.

Many regular groups including families, crafting groups, church groups and school groups felt comfortable enough to gather in smaller numbers for their event. And, we experienced growth in our new group rentals as people felt the need to connect in real life after way too many zoom meetings.

After a virtual Family Fun Day (UnEvent) in 2020, it was spectacular to gather with friends of Calvin Crest who came to enjoy the beautiful day, fun activities, interactive worship, cool pool, delicious meal and fellowship opportunities.

And Calvin Crest couldn't have handled the pressures of the year without the great financial support from so many sources including Presbyteries, churches, foundations and individuals. The generous support was proof-positive that this place makes a difference in the lives of many.

Many Thanks to you!
